Software Engineer

Full Stack Web Developer specializing in Ruby on Rails, JavaScript and React Redux. I spent six years as a massage therapist both as an employee and business owner. Looking to make a career change, I discovered web development. The enjoyment of coding and the creative outlet it provides made it clear this was the path for me. Possessing strong skills in problem-solving, customer service and communication, I'm able to convey complex issues to both technical and non-technical audiences. Highly energized by teamwork and collaboration.
